HAULED DOWN OUR FLAG.

Soldiers in Rival's Interest.

BY IRVIN S. COBB.

New York feels duly thankful. New York always feels duly thankful this time of the year, firstly with becoming Murphy—will nave gone, and the places which knew them once will know them thereafter only as the Three Em dashes at the end of the tale of graftology?

And we ought to be thankful for that! And while we're on the subject, what's the matter with being thankful. York always feels duly thankful this time of the year, firstly with becoming secondly and thirdly and fourthly and so forthly, because of a good many tease, Chaunce Depew, of something that happened when he was a boy at Peekskill. This is the first November since Hendrik Hudson salled up the river and discovered Chaunce that reminded the gifted end man of the United States Senate of something that happened once at Peckskill. A strange silence has fallen over him since he quit playing Tambo to Mr. Harriman's Bones.

However, one should not expect as much freshness in a canned peach as in the same peach before it got canned. And who would deny that Chaunce has been thoroughly canned? And ought not we all to be thankful for

The coming of the festal day likewise finds the magnificent acoustic qualities of the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst unimpaired. Those lovers of the Shakespearian tragedy, who know the dramatic value of a "noise without" feel that at Thanksgiving time they cannot be too grateful for the voice and the presence of Dr. Parkhurst, as he charges about the wings with his whiskers capa-ple, seeking an opportunity to burst into the spot light-and not finding McCurdy Is Out Too.

A month ago everybody was saying that Mr. McCurdy—of the celebrated Three Ems team—wouldn't let go until it thundered. And now he has let go and is trying to unloose the twin-ing fingers of Son Bob and Son-in-law
